With its new collection, Angh, homegrown carpet brand Jaipur Rugs celebrates the valour of the Konyak tribe of Nagaland. Designed by Albin, the in-house designer of Jaipur Rugs, the collection has six pieces and each one of them celebrates the unwavering spirit of the largest ethnic group of Nagaland who inhabit the Mon district which is also known as The Land of the Anghs. Through captivating displays and poignant narratives, Jaipur Rugs pay homage to their rich traditions, preserving their legacy for generations to come, and embracing the indomitable spirit of the Konyak people.
